

How to make a submission to the Guardianship Review

Law reform is a process that requires a broad range of voices. This poster will break down the steps involved in making a submission to the review of the Guardianship Act 1987

Step 1

Read the materials

Read the Terms of Reference, our Question Papers or watch our videos on the guardianship review to help guide your submission.

Step 2

Think about what to say

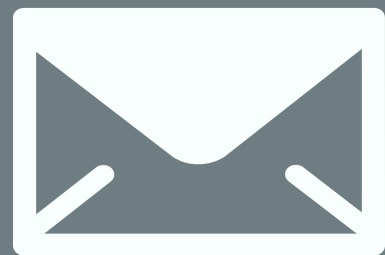

No submission is too long or too short. We want to hear your ideas, thoughts, stories, and experiences with the law under review.

Step 3

Choose how to contribute

There are many ways to contribute. You can write something down, you can give us a call, you can make a video, or you may wish to take our easy-to-answer survey.

Step 4

Send us your submission

Email or post us your submission by the due date. Or you can phone us to tell us your ideas. Our contact details are at: www.lawreform.justice.nsw.gov.au
