hi,

some might seem minuscule but can lead to serious injury and deaths

1. No crushing of cars. It's not your property to take and destroy (steal). If they do wrong. Send them to gaol instead. registration does not give you a right to take someone property to destroy.
2. Defects shouldn't loose points off your licence and un road worthy vehicles need to be targeted. not just modified cars.
3. More police on the road and less cameras. this alone would make a massive difference with road safety. if you guys were serious about road safety.
4. Teach people old and new to actually drive, especially overseas people coming into the country as well. instead of issuing international licence without checking they can actually drive. ie programs on merging in lanes, round about use, tailgating, phone usage, traffic lights. alot of people seem to be getting the basics wrong now days. this would reduce serious accidents.
