Hello there, I'm a 33 year veteran road cycling/ commuter from the Canterbury/ Inner west area of Sydney. I'm emailing to share my point of view, my opinion and experience on the review of penalties relating to serious road crimes. As a responsible road cyclist, I experience every week alot of dangerous, reckless and deliberate driving acts to intimidate, frighten and discourage and even harm me while cycling on Sydney roads. I would like to see 'Deliberate, reckless and dangerous driving' towards cyclists, penalties and sentences increased. I would also like to see minimum overtaking distances of heavy vehicles overtaking cyclist increased to minimum 2 meters. This one is a no brainer. A media advertising campaign highlighting road safety and awareness towards cyclists is long overdue.

Kind regards- Terry George
